

Mancala

Mancala is one of the oldest known two-player board games in the world. It is believed that the game began in ancient Africa. Evidence of the ancient board game has been found dating back to the year 700 AD. ... While mancala took longer to catch on in Europe, it continued to grow elsewhere.

Setting up your mancala board:

Place your two trays side by side with the colors on each tray matching. Put one Mancala on each end of the trays. Put four (4) stones in each cup of your trays.

See attached instructions sheet for How to Play.
